

Acknowledgement and Healing Yarning Circle: Lock Hospital histories

Aboriginal people were taken along the One Mile jetty at Carnarvon, en route to the lock hospitals on Bernier and Dorre Islands.

This is the view looking back to Carnarvon, the last view of the mainland for many.

Date: Tuesday 24 April

Time: 2-3pm

Venue: MacLeod and Kennedy Rooms at Carnarvon Hospital
(entry via the outpatient waiting room)

Please join us for a short film and discussion about the lock hospitals of Bernier and Dorre Islands, and the importance of this historical episode for contemporary health and wellbeing.

Community members and researchers who have been working together on a memorial in Carnarvon to acknowledge this history will discuss their work, and join a yarning circle discussion about the profound significance of this history.

With community members Bob Dorey and Kathleen Musulin, and researchers Dr Jade Stingemore (Pervan) and Dr Melissa Sweet and others...

If you can't make this event, please join a yarning circle from 5.30pm–7pm on Tuesday 24th at Shire of Carnarvon Regional Library and Art Gallery.
