Join us in Carnarvon – and online at the hashtag #CroakeyGO – as we walk and talk about the importance of acknowledging the history of the lock hospitals of Bernier and Dorre Islands.

Several hundred Aboriginal people from across Western Australia were incarcerated on the islands between 1908-1919. Many never returned home.

The walk, on Yinggarda country, will follow the planned Lock Hospital Memorial trail, which aims to promote healing through acknowledgement of traumatic history.

Join members of the Carnarvon Lock Hospital Memorial Project in an act of walking journalism called #CroakeyGO and collaborative story telling.

Pictures, video and social media content will be shared from the walk, using the hashtag #CroakeyGO.
