This practical, interactive workshop with civic technologist Henare Degan will support participants to develop a better understanding of how to use FOI for public interest investigations and public health. It will be useful for community members and groups, NGOs, researchers, journalists, students, and others with an interest in holding power to account.

Participants will be assisted to lodge an FOI request.

We thank the co-hosts of this event
- the Girra Maa Indigenous Health
Discipline at UTS.
