A new mission statement for health care - visionary thinking @PeterLachman #ISQua2019

ISQua's Statement on Sustainability in Health Care

ISQua recognises the serious consequences of climate change and pollution for the health of individuals and populations.

ISQua recognises that the healthcare sector has a responsibility to minimise its impact on climate change and pollution.

ISQua recognises the urgency and importance of climate change as part of its mission to inspire and empower people to advocate for, and facilitate health and improvements in the quality and sustainability of health care.

ISQua believes that the promotion of climate sustainability in the health care sector includes the promotion of climate sustainability & implementation of sustainability improvements.

This is the first conference I've attended that addresses the impact of climate change on health/healthcare, and acknowledges the effects conference travel has on our environment. @ISQua’s commitment to sustainability is one I hope to see mirrored at other conferences #ISQua2019
